01/13 spend time with (message) loved ones

I texted Erica and Em, let them know how much they mean to me ^^

01/16 break a big goal down into smaller steps

I went through all my classes and opened/downloaded everything into organized tabs and added things to my calendar to start the semester

W1

01/20 lend a hand

I lent some friends a hand in setting something up in the Union (and made a small donation to charity tabling ^^)

01/23 remember your ancestors

Thinking of my grandmas, and I'll call my grandpa later today too

W2

01/27 time into your sense of touch

Idk if it's exactly meditation, but I just took some time to do this for a few minutes, and just... feel, when you put your mind to it you notice a lot more detail

01/30 ~~practice critical thinking~~ read a good book

Did some catching up on the last lecture, really enjoying it so far!

W3

02/03 Take our science of happiness at work course

I didn't take the full course lol, but I watched the video and read their article on it, sounds interesting!

02/06 reflect on someone who inspires you

I reflected on a few friends that have inspired me over the years, what makes them good friends, what traits of theirs I aspire for, and thought about how I can work towards some of those things

W4

02/09 treat yourself the way a kind friend would

I actually took the time to make myself lunch, just a toasted tuna sandwich, but its better than my usual nothing

02/13 take time today to journal

Well... I'd say I don't have time to journal today but I guess I'm doing it now. I have a DE lab due at midnight, my late IOT lab 1 due at midnight that's not gonna get done, my IOT lab 2 due tomorrow, and tomorrow's Valentine's Day and idk what I'm doing for that either, then an ARC hw due Monday. It's been a busy week and it's gonna be a busy weekend.

W5

02/17 ~~forgive yourself~~ do something restorative and fulfilling

I'm still behind on work but I took an hour to hang out with friends, and I haven't really left my room for the past two weeks or so, so yeah that was a nice break

02/20 ~~be cooperative~~ embrace your playful side

It's big red freakout weekend, loads of alumni friends are visiting, and I'm pretty much caught up on work, so it's been a great time hanging out, playing some games, listening to music, actually having a great time

W6

02/24 Make small talk with a stranger

(completed 03/25) I went to the picnic at the armory today with some friends! Got to meet some friends of friends, had a chat about school and GM week and stuff, it was nice getting out of the house today :)

02/27 ~~Try to avoid defensiveness~~ How altruistic are you?

(completed 03/28) Well I was going to keep this in mind for my therapy appointment today, but looks like I got confused with the rescheduling, it's next week now. I guess I'll take the altruism quiz? Got an 82/100, I'm pretty happy with that. I think it's always important to look at the net change when helping someone since you're just as important, you should always help when the effort from yourself is lesser than the effort relieved from who you're helping.

03/03 Take the time to recover after stress

What perfect timing with spring break! I'm back at home, my parents are over in Portugal for the week, I'm writing this while in the back yard, taking in the sun, petting my dogs. I still have work to get done over break but these first few days have been nice :)

03/06 Recognize when you're struggling

Well it's friday and I still haven't touched the lab that's due Monday at midnight, or any of my final projects. I tried to get some stuff started today but I just... couldn't. I'll try again tomorrow

W8

03/10 Be curious about other people's perspectives.

(completed 03/30) Ran an event yesterday, so today I asked for some feedback about what people thought about it, how it could be better, how it's been different in the past, and I think I had a good few takeaways about how to help others do better in the future

03/13 Notice what you have in common with people who feel different

(completed 04/01) Went to RPA today, I think that counts as a group of people that generally feel "different", and I have a whole lot in common with so many of them lol

W9

03/17 ~~Read a book~~ Reach out to a friend

(completed 04/04) Reached out to Sam, a best friend from back home. He and another friend had some issues, he doesn't really want to be around them right now so he left our discord server, and even I haven't really talked to him since spring break with all the work I've been stuck with. He's doing good, being a car nerd, getting ready to spend some time just driving around the country. He actually asked when would be a good time to visit NY, we made plans for him to drive up and visit and we'll go to Niagara Falls for a day after finals

03/20 ~~Find a common goal~~ Read a book

(completed 04/09) Well I don't have time to read a book, but I watched like 10 minutes of some anime that my roommates were watching. It looked cool, added it to my list of things to read/watch after college.

W10

03/24 Use your critical thinking skills.

(completed 04/19) I'm behind on work still... Getting better, this weekend has actually brought me a lot of hope that I'm be able to catch up on a lot of stuff before the semester ends in a couple short weeks, but I also need to be realistic, there's at least one class I probably can't pass, and idk what that means for my co-term. My friends keep telling me I need to talk to the dean of students, I should, but idk when, or how... but I should get this done very soon.

03/27 Tune in to a loved one

Got on a call with a bunch of friends from home for the first time in a while, didn't do much in particular, just had some nice long conversations about stuff going on recently.

W11

03/31 ~~Remember our interconnectedness.~~ Connect with nature

Going outside has been super nice, I saw a cardinal on my way to class today! Cardinals always remind me of St. Louis :) also like 7 squirrels lol. Update: just got home, there are 5 deer in the back yard, seeing them always makes me happy :)

04/03 Let go of little annoyances

more of a big annoyance but I'm really not sure whether or not I'll be able to pass my classes, if my GPA will be good enough to graduate, or if they might even just kick me out for not completing co-term in time. I haven't even talked to my advisor about the third semester I plan to take. But for now, nothing I can do about the past assignments, just need to grind to catch up.

W12

04/07 ~~Express your love~~ Notice when you start to feel burned out

Now. I've only been back to getting work done for like a week and a half. There are classes that I got extensions on and still haven't touched. There are classes where I'm just continuing to fall further behind. I'm so sleep deprived and so exhausted, I've been living off monster energy. I just want to sleep but I simply don't have time right now.

04/10 Find things that give you comfort

My friends,

W13

04/14 Take time to process when something bad happens

What good timing for this question. I lost my phone on Sunday. I don't know where, my best guess is when I went thrifting with a friend. I know this feels like the most zoomer issue, but... So many regrets, it's not been backed up since October 2024, I've just lost over a year of texts, calls, messages, photos, videos, notes... this sucks. I have a terrible memory so I really really highly value having little photos and stuff to look back on and remind me of good times, but nope, they're gone, I think I'm just gonna go cry about this for a while.

04/17 ~~Be trustworthy~~ Express your love

Spent yesterday and today at Erica's, been super productive, gotten more work done today than the last few weeks combined, It's crazy how effectively just being around here motivates me? Usually "productive" means always distracted jumping task to task in a panic with my heart beating out of my chest but today's just been... getting work done? and being happy? and calm??? I'm not used to this, this is so nice. Anyway, yeah, I pretty much just told her all of that and how much she means to me <3
